VATICAN CONFERENCES
FORECAST PEACE MOVES

March 28.—The impression is that the pope is connected with the forthcoming peace initiative to confine aerial warfare to strictly military objectives. The pope is said to be attempting to obtain acceptance of the proposals by the belligerents.

There also is a rumor that Mr. Paeffli has been entrusted with a message telling His Holiness of Germany's peace plans and with instructions to attempt to get his support before submitting them to the belligerents.

FIRE DESTROYS $800,000 HOME

OSTER RAY, N. Y., March 28.—The country home of William R. Coe was destroyed by fire late today with a loss estimated at nearly $800,000. The estate was one of the show places on the north shore of Long Island. The fire is believed to have started by a plumber's blow torch.

HAD PIMPLES Town Talk Tablets only medicine that cured

A beautiful skin, either in man or woman, a skin free from pimples, blotches, blackheads, sores, patches, red spots and the oily and greasy appearance common to some, is a treasure of possession. About one person in every five has an unsightly face, purely on account of the diseased condition of the blood.

Mrs. Pauline Gibson of New Rochelle, N. Y., says:
"For years I suffered humiliation from the condition of my face which never seemed free from little boils and pimples. It looked terrible and felt worse. I tried all kinds of washes and ointments with no relief. I took every sort of medicine advertised as a cure, but my face remained unsightly. My physician said it was my blood, but whatever they gave me only seemed to make it worse. Really I gave up in despair, I didn't know what to do with myself. One day a friend

SEGRAVES BADLY INJURED AS AUTO HITS HIS WAGON

City Councilman Thrown to Street, Suffers Fracture of Arm

DRIVER LEAVES SCENE OF ACCIDENT, ESCAPES

Automobile Reverses Course by Impact of Collision—Segraves Taken Home.

City Councilman W. J. Segraves was dangerously injured Wednesday evening when he was thrown from his wagon, which was struck by an automobile on the Rock Levee Road a short distance south of the toll gate bridge just outside the city limits. He was rendered unconscious for some time and was still suffering intensely late last night.

Mr. Segraves was brought to the city in an automobile and taken to his home on North Spanish street. The physician who dressed his injuries said it was miraculous that he was not killed in the collision. He suffered a slight fracture of the left arm and several cuts about the head and bruises all over the body.

According to J. E. Hagen who lives near the toll gate bridge, the man driving the automobile, a Maxwell roadster was going south at a high rate of speed. He estimated 50 miles an hour. The front end of the automobile he said apparently struck the front wheel of the wagon, and the automobile was hurled half way around, the rear end of the automobile striking the rear end of the wagon. The force of the impact then threw the automobile into the ditch.

The force of the collision was so great that the tire on the right rear wheel of the automobile was torn from the rim. The driver of the car, Mr. Hagen said took several robes from the machine and placed them under the wheels in order to drive out of the ditch. He left the scene without inquiring whether anyone had been hurt or leaving his name. It is a customary offense to leave the scene of an accident.

Mr. Segraves was hurled from his seat between the two mules and fell to the ground. The tongue of the wagon was broken off and the mules rushed to the side of the road. The injured man called to those who hurried to his assistance to get the number of the automobile. According to the witnesses the State license number of the automobile is 80,199. Chief of Police Whitener was notified of the accident and telephoned to several towns along the Rock Levee road to hold the man.

The accident occurred about 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Segraves was returning from Ansell where he had delivered some timber. He said he saw the automobile approaching him at the high rate of speed and drove to the edge of the road as far as he could. He almost brought his team to a stop, when the automobile struck the wagon.

When seen by a reporter for The Tribune yesterday evening he was in a comatose condition and unable to relate how the accident occurred.

ASSESSMENT RAISE IN MO. OVER 2 BILLION

Increase Reported by Tax Committee Yesterday Due to Change of Law.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 28.—The State Tax Commission submitted its report on the valuation of real estate and personal property for this year's taxes to the State Board of Equalization today. The total valuation placed at $4,017,896,413, an increase over last year of $2,267,781,120.

The commission added to the valuation in five counties and the City of St. Louis a total of $774,684,486. The valuation of Jackson County shows the greatest increase, 273,218,601. St. Louis comes second with $254,671,562. The valuation made by the local assessors in 106 counties were not disturbed.

Attorney General McAllister objected to one part of the report which states the commission was not advised by the state board as to what course it should pursue.

RAZOR FALLS UPON MRS. PAT FRISSELL

Army Officer's Wife Seriously Slashed When Whisker Mower Drops.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Houck, who have returned from an extended visit to San Antonio, Tex., where they visited their daughter and son-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. Patrick Frissell, announced that Mrs. Frissell suffered a serious injury several weeks ago when a razor dropped from a shelf and slashed her left wrist.

The razor had been placed on a shelf by Maj. Frissell, who had just finished shaving. Under the razor was a towel, and as she attempted to remove the towel, Mrs. Frissell jerked the razor down upon her. The leaders in her wrist were severed. She was taken to a hospital at San Antonio, where she was confined for several weeks.

When the wound healed, it left her hand helpless and at the advice of a specialist, she went to Chicago, two weeks ago, for an operation, which it is believed, will restore the use of her hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Houck arrived at San Antonio the day following the accident. Mrs. N. C. Frissell, mother of Maj. Frissell, was summoned, and took charge of the army officer's home while Mrs. Patrick Frissell was in the hospital.

Mrs. Frissell was formerly Miss Rebecca Houck, and one of the most popular society girls in this city. Her best friends are hoping for her speedy recovery.

U. S. HAS BUILT BUT TWO SHIPS, IS CHARGE

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Before galleries filled to overflowing, debate over the conduct of the war was renewed with great vigor in the senate this afternoon. Senator Jones of Washington assailed the War Department for failing to give the people information about the participation of American troops in the resistance to the German drive.

"Why is it we have to get our news from Berlin," demanded Senator Jones. "Why is it we have to wait forty-eight hours after Berlin tells us American troops were engaged to learn the facts from our own government?"

He also criticized the statement of Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board, last night reporting favorable progress on the shipping program. Sharp retorts were made by administration senators led by Senator Myers of Montana and Senator Shafroth of Colorado. Senator Myers urged Senator Jones not to discourage the American people.

"I'm not discouraging them—I'm just trying to tell them some facts," declared Senator Jones.

Excerpts from Chairman Hurley's statement were read and picked to pieces by Senator Jones and Senator McCumber of North Dakota.

"He says the shipping program is 98 per cent completed," said Senator McCumber.

"The fact remains that we have built just two ships."

OH MY STOMACH

"I had stomach trouble so badly that nothing I ate would digest as it should," said Sadie E. Hamilton, Portland, Me., as she began a remarkable story of the relief she has secured from Argo-Phosphate, the new reconstructive, stomach tonic and system purifier.

"Everything that I ate would lie in my stomach like a lump," she explained. "Gas would form and I would suffer distress all the time. I got so I could hardly keep anything down. I got relief, I had my stomach cleaned out, but even this did not cure me as I continued just as bad. I kept hearing so much about Argo-Phosphate that I thought maybe it might help me and I decided to try it. I have taken two bottles and I am already feeling fine. I can eat anything and I am not troubled at all."

"I am completely rid of my old stomach trouble that I had for three years. I have not felt so well for years and I am certainly glad to endorse Argo-Phosphate because I want others to be helped by this wonderful medicine."

"The spirit of wanting to help others is what makes suffering men and women these splendid public endorsements of Argo-Phosphate," said a local druggist.

ORGANIZE TO FIGHT

Baboons Make War Very Much as Do Human Beings.

Ample Proof That Intelligent Beasts Recognize the Value of Co-operation—Also Capable of Self-Sacrifice in Aiding the Young.

If we are to credit the testimony on the subject offered by naturalists, man is not the only animal who carries on his warfare by means of organized bands, and calls in the forces of nature to assist him. There have been witnessed in Africa fights that were conducted in as orderly a manner as if the warriors had been really men, instead of only somewhat like them in form, i. e., baboons.

One naturalist was stoned out of a pass in a very few minutes by these creatures, who sprang upon ledges and stones, looked down for a few moments on the valley, growling, snarling and screaming, and then began to roll down stones with so much vigor and adroitness that the intruders took to flight. The baboons evidently knew the value of co-operation, for the naturalist saw two of them combine their efforts in order to set a particularly heavy stone rolling. One monkey, bent on making the most of his missile, was seen to carry a stone up a tree, that he might hurl it with greater force.

Once, while some baboons were crossing a valley, they were attacked by dogs, and, as is usual during a march, the females and young were in the center, the males heading the column and bringing up in the rear. As the dogs rushed upon them the males turned and faced their enemies, growling, beating the ground with their hands, and opening their mouths wide, so as to show their glittering teeth. They looked so fierce and malignant that the dogs—Arab greyhounds, accustomed to fight successfully with hyenas and other beasts of prey—shrank back. By the time they had been encouraged to renew the attack, the whole herd had made their way, covered by the rear guard, to the rocks, one six-months-old monkey excepted.

This little monkey sat on a rock surrounded by the dogs; but he was not long left in his perilous position. An old baboon stepped from a cliff nearby, advanced toward the dogs, keeping them in check by threatening gestures and sounds, picked up the baby monkey, and carried it to a place of safety on the cliff, while the whole crowd of baboons watched the act of heroism and shouted their battle cry.

Peanuts Up a Peg. Until recently the peanut was regarded as a casual—one might almost say sportive—article of provender. It has been looked upon as appropriate to the small boy and the circus. The "peanut gallery," though but a memory to the present generation, is a not-forgotten term for the cheap seats at the top of a theater.

But now it is different. The long-despised peanut is coming into its own. It has the emphatic endorsement of Mr. Hoover. Our people are advised to eat peanuts.

You see, the peanut is not a nut at all, properly speaking. It is a kind of pea; and, like other legumes, it is rich in tissue-making stuff. A paper bag of peanuts (even nowadays, when somewhat reduced in size) affords a fairly square meal.

The peanut, however, may be utilized to advantage in cooking—for soup, for "peanut loaf," and in other ways. If you want the recipe, you can get them from the food administration at Washington.

Thought He Was "Setting 'Em Up."

A young Topeka army officer, now in France, was seized while in Paris with a desire to send his sister a present, and finally decided on a waist, says the Kansas City Star. He entered a fashionable shop and selected a waist, but not knowing the size his sister required, singled out a pretty Parisian clerk who looked about his sister's size, and asked her to try the waist on. When she returned the fit was pronounced perfect, and the young officer nodded approvingly and paid the cashier. As he turned back to claim the article, the clerk flew into his arms and kissed him again and again, exclaiming, "Thank you, thank you." All the other clerks in the store then caught the idea that the handsome young American was "setting them up" generally to girls who wanted new waists, and begged him to buy for them also. The officer finally excused a retreat in some manner or other, but the sister in Topeka has not yet received any present.

Her Horrible Suspicion.

We are all to be oversuspicious, just now, of everything and everybody. An instance of this regrettable tendency is furnished by an edifying food queue story which is going the rounds here.

A queue had formed up outside a butcher's shop in a London suburb and, in order to make things easier for all concerned, the shopman adopted the plan of letting his customers in in parties of eight or ten, and of letting them out from the rear of his premises. One old woman, noticing that, though many went in, none came out, marveled greatly, and, when it came her turn to enter, she hesitated about doing so.

"Hurry up, madam," shouted the butcher, who didn't want to lose time. "But what have you done with all the other people?" was the startling inquiry.—London Times.

sector where the French had been falling back.)

Near Beaumont-Hammet the enemy attacked heavily. Severe fighting followed. This morning it appeared that the village virtually was No Man's Land, with the contending lines drawn close on either side.

PARIS, March 28.—Three officers and 11 men of the United States Army Ambulance Corps have been decorated with the war cross by the French Government.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The appeal of Lloyd George for urgent haste in American troop movements to France read in New York last night by Lord Reading is viewed here as a call to the American people.

British officials are already fully advised as to the situation here and know that the American Government is straining every resource to get to the front and has confident hopes of placing 1,000,000 or more men in the field during the year.

BITES TONGUE OFF IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Dr. Aldredge, Of Aniston, Unable To Eat Because Of Serious Injury.

Dr. Aldredge of Aniston, Mississippi County, lost the tip of his tongue in an automobile accident last Tuesday, when his machine ran off the road and collided with a tree. The physician was thrown out striking his chin on the ground.

The injured physician remained at home for treatment, but his injury proved much more serious than anticipated. He was unable to eat, due to the fact that his tongue had swelled badly and had to be taken to a Cairo, Ill., hospital for treatment.

GETS FOUR YEARS IN PEN FOR BURGLARY AND LARCENY

Charles Rhodes, Arrested in Cape A Month Ago, Sentenced in Scott County Circuit Court.

Charles Rhodes who was arrested here a month ago by Policeman Hutson was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary on a charge of burglary and larceny. He was accused of breaking into the home of Fred Steek in Forefelt and stealing clothing valued at $50.

Rhodes was arrested in this city the following day, when he attracted the policeman's attention by his suspicious actions. Several coats and a lot of other wearing apparel were recovered from a local second hand dealer, who identified Rhodes as the man who sold the goods. The articles were later identified by Steek and his wife.

A NOTICE TO THE VOTERS

In thanking those who were instrumental in nominating me for a Commissioner of Cape Girardeau, I take the liberty to again ask for your assistance in the general election, which will be held next Tuesday, APRIL 2.

I am the candidate of no special interest. If elected, I will treat everybody fairly and work for the good of all the people and the whole city. My record as a city official is my recommendation for asking your further assistance. My efforts have always been to perform my duties properly, and if elected, I shall continue that policy.

I represent no person, or clique of persons, and am not championed by any organized effort or influence, and my determination, if elected, is to serve the people honestly and fairly, with equal courtesy to all.

SHORTAGE OF FOOD CAUSES FIERCE DRIVE

Germany Forced to Offensive in Order to Revive Spirit of Her People.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Germany's desperate gamble on the west front is actuated, in part, by the grim fact that her industrial structure, as well as her food supply, is running low.

Official information in possession of this government today proves this, and indicates that Germany is making her offensive now in hope of a victory before America's human and economic power is finally mustered.

The information does not indicate Germany is going to pieces right away, by any means, and it is recognized she has new eastern economic reserves.

But the reports do not show that Germany is:

Running short of coal. Having serious transportation difficulties. About out of cotton and has a bad situation as to clothing. Lacking in leather, fats and oils. Outstripping among Germany's trouble is the coal shortage.

Many works have been stopped by lack of coal. Due to chiefly to transportation difficulties, the shortage is developing into positive famine, official advisers declare. Re-opening of schools has been postponed in some sections. In Mannheim, every day is heatless day. Theaters, churches, movies and halls are forbidden coal.

The shortage is hampering war work throughout the upper Rhine districts. In Austria conditions are even worse. Reserves of fuel are being exhausted. Consignments are being confiscated in the South German market to keep essential work running.
